The inception date for the Prime Money Market Fund: RBC Investor Class is 11.21.08. Performance shown for this class of shares prior to the inception date is based on the performance, fees and expenses of Institutional Class 1 shares of the Fund, and its predecessors and has not been adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of Investor Class shares. Historical performance shown prior to this date is based on the previous fees and expenses which as of fiscal year ended 9.30.08 was 0.89%. The yield quotations more closely reflect the current earnings of the Fund than the total return quotations.

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than performance quoted. Performance Definitions

Basis Point - A unit that is equal to 1/100th of 1%, and is used to denote the change in a financial instrument.

Total Return - A measure of a fund's performance that encompasses all elements of return: dividends, capital gain distributions, and changes in net asset value. Total return is the change in value of an investment over a given period, assuming reinvestment of any dividends and capital gains distributions, expressed as a percentage of the initial investment. The following formula is used:

$$[(1 + \text{monthly div. factor}) \times (1 + \text{monthly div. factor}) \text{ for past 12 months} - 1] \times 100$$

Yield Definitions - The 7-day current yield is an annualized net yield in which it is assumed that the income earned on the principal is not reinvested in the fund. The effective 7-day net yields are annualized net yields that describe the amount one is expected to earn over a 1-year period assuming that dividends are reinvested at the average rate of the last 7 days.

Portfolio Characteristics Definitions

Credit Ratings - Ratings represent the opinions of the rating agency as to the quality of the securities they rate. Ratings are relative and subjective and are not absolute standards of quality. The portfolio's credit quality does not remove market risk. The Fund is rated AAAM rating from Standard & Poor's (as of 9.30.11), a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc., which reflects Standard & Poor's view of the Fund's credit quality, investment policies, market price exposure and management. The rating signifies extremely strong capacity to maintain principal stability and limit exposure to principal losses due to credit, market and/or liquidity risks. The Fund is rated Aaa-mf by Moody's (as of 9.30.11), which reflects the high credit quality of the Fund's investments and the diversification of the portfolio, as well as the Fund manager's disciplined investment strategy, well-established team approach and its strong risk management capabilities. For more information about methodology for credit ratings, please visit www.standardandpoors.com and www.moody.com.

Weighted Average Maturity - Maturity measures the number of days remaining in the life of a bond. The weighted average maturity of the portfolio represents the market-weighted average of the maturities of the portfolio's individual holdings.
