Investment Objective

The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund. You may qualify for sales charge discounts on purchases of Class A shares of the Fund if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $25,000 in Class A shares of the RBC Funds. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial professional and under the subheading “Reducing the Initial Sales Charge on Purchases of Class A Shares” on page 58 of this Prospectus.

	Class A	Class I	Class R6
Shareholder Fees (fees paid directly from your investment)
Maximum Sales Charge (Load) Imposed on Purchases (as a % of offering price)	5.75%	None	None
Maximum Deferred Sales Charge (Load) (as a % of offering or sales price, whichever is less)	None ¹	None	None
Redemption Fee (as a % of amount redeemed or exchanged within 30 days after the date of purchase)	2.00%	2.00%	None
Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment) ²
Management Fees	0.70%	0.70%	0.70%
Distribution and Service (12b-1) Fees	0.25%	None	None
Other Expenses	0.48%	0.30%	49.76%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses	1.43%	1.00%	50.46%
Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement ³	(0.36)%	(0.18)%	(49.69)%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses after Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement	1.07%	0.82%	0.77%

- 1 A 1.00% CDSC is imposed on redemptions of Class A shares made within 12 months of a purchase of $1 million or more of Class A shares on which no front-end sales charge was paid.
- 2 Annual Fund Operating Expenses have been restated to reflect reductions of the contractual operating expense limits and the elimination of the administration fee that became effective on October 2, 2017.
- 3 The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or pay operating expenses in order to limit the Fund's total expenses (excluding brokerage and other investment-related costs, interest, taxes, dues, fees and other charges of governments and their agencies, extraordinary expenses such as litigation and indemnification, other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business and acquired fund fees and expenses) to 1.07% of the Fund's average daily net assets for Class A shares, 0.82% for Class I shares and 0.77% for Class R6 shares. This expense limitation agreement is in place until January 31, 2019 and may not be terminated by the Advisor prior to that date. The expense limitation agreement may be revised or terminated by the Fund's board of trustees if the board consents to a revision or termination as being in the best interests of the Fund. The Advisor is entitled to recoup from the Fund or class the fees and/or operating expenses waived or reimbursed during any of the previous 12 months, provided the Fund is able to do so and remain in compliance with the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived or expenses paid. The Fund may not, however, recapture prior year expenses incurred under previous expense cap arrangements solely because of an increase in the current year's expense cap.

Example: This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. The costs for the Fund reflect the net expenses of the Fund that result from the contractual expense limitation in the first year only. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	Class A	Class I	Class R6
One Year	$ 678	$ 84	$ 79
Three Years	$ 968	$ 300	$6,359
Five Years	$1,279	$ 535	$8,227
Ten Years	$2,160	$1,208	$8,980

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 18% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation by normally investing at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small- and mid-capitalization growth companies that fall within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2500™ Growth Index at the time of investment. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range for the Russell 2500™ Growth Index was approximately $23 million to $17.2 billion. The Advisor uses a bottom-up investment approach employing fundamental analysis to identify individual companies for inclusion in the Fund's portfolio.

In analyzing companies for investment, the Advisor looks for, among other things, companies that it believes have:

- Positive future revenue and earnings growth prospects
- Consistent financial results
- High returns on equity and profit margins relative to industry peers
- A strong balance sheet
- Attractive valuation metrics

In addition, the Advisor prefers companies that it believes possess the following qualitative characteristics:

- Superior company management
- A unique market niche and broad market opportunities
- Solid accounting methodology

The Fund's portfolio will normally consist of approximately 70 to 90 companies.

Principal Risks

The value of your investment in the Fund will change daily, which means that you could lose money. An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. By itself, the Fund is not a balanced investment program. There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its goal. The principal risks of investing in the Fund include:

Active Management Risk. The Fund is actively managed and its performance therefore will reflect in part the Advisor's ability to make investment decisions that are suited to achieve the Fund's investment objective.

Equity Market Risk. Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally.

Growth Investing Risk. Growth stock prices reflect projections of future earnings or revenues, and can, therefore, fall dramatically if the company fails to meet those projections.

Market Risk. The markets in which the Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably. The success of the Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. A Fund's investments may be overweighted from time to time in one or more sectors, which will increase the Fund's exposure to risk of loss from adverse developments affecting those sectors.

Mid-Sized Company Risk. Stocks of mid-sized companies may carry greater risks than those of larger companies because mid-sized companies may have less management experience, competitive strengths and financial resources than larger companies. Mid-sized companies may also be more vulnerable to adverse business or economic events and may be more volatile than larger companies.

Small and Micro Company Risk. Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, a Fund's net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Because of this, if a Fund wants to sell a large quantity of stock of a smaller company, the Fund may have to sell at a lower price than the Advisor might prefer, or it may have to sell in small quantities over a period of time. Small company risk can be intensified when investing in micro-cap companies. The prices of micro-cap stocks are generally more volatile and their markets are less liquid relative to larger companies. An investment in the Fund may involve considerably more risk of loss and its returns may differ significantly from funds investing in larger companies.

Performance Information

The bar chart and performance table provide an indication of the risks of an investment in the Fund by showing changes in performance from year to year and by showing how the Fund's average annual total returns (before and after taxes) compare with those of a broad-based securities index. The returns for Class I and Class R6 shares may be different than the returns of Class A shares shown in the bar chart and performance table because expenses of the classes differ. The bar chart shows the Fund's performance for the past ten calendar years. Sales charges are not reflected in the bar chart, and if those charges had been included, the returns would be less than those shown below. Past performance (before and after taxes) does not indicate how the Fund will perform in the future. Updated information on the Fund's performance can be obtained by visiting www.rbcgam.us or by calling 1-800-422-2766.

RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund – Class A Annual Total Returns

During the periods shown in the chart for the RBC SMID
Cap Growth Fund – Class A:

	Quarter	Year	Returns
Best quarter:	Q1	2012	14.66%
Worst quarter:	Q4	2008	(28.41)%

Performance Table

The table below shows before and after-tax returns for Class A shares only and assumes applicable maximum sales charges. After-tax returns for Class I shares will vary. After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold Fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as qualified retirement plans. In some cases, returns after taxes on distributions and sale of Fund shares may be higher than returns before taxes because the calculations assume that the investor received a tax benefit for any loss incurred on the sale of the shares. The inception date of Class A and Class I is December 31, 1990 and of Class R6 is November 21, 2016. Performance shown for Class R6 prior to its inception date is based on the performance of Class I shares, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of Class R6 shares.

	Past Year	Past 5 Years	Past 10 Years	Since Inception
Class A Before Taxes	10.00%	11.03%	7.25%	10.74%
Class A After Taxes on Distributions	4.68%	7.84%	5.49%	8.91%
Class A After Taxes on Distributions and Sale of Shares	10.06%	8.42%	5.70%	8.86%
Class I Before Taxes	17.06%	12.64%	8.15%	11.30%
Class R6 Before Taxes	17.13%	12.74%	8.36%	11.56%
Russell 2500™ Growth Index (reflects no deduction for fees, expenses or taxes; inception calculated from December 31, 1990)	24.46%	15.47%	9.62%	10.61%

¹ The performance for the period from June 1, 1994 to April 19, 2004 reflects the performance of the Mid Cap Equity Fund, the predecessor to RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund. The performance of the Fund also includes the performance of a common trust fund ("CTF") account advised by the Advisor (including its predecessor) and managed the same as the Fund in all material respects for the period from December 31, 1990 to June 1, 1994, as adjusted to reflect the full contractual rate of expenses associated with the Fund at its inception. The CTF account was not registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under the 1940 Act and therefore was not subject to the investment restrictions imposed by law on registered mutual funds. If the CTF account had been registered, the CTF account's performance may have been adversely affected. Fund performance reflects applicable fee waivers/expense reimbursements (which, if excluded, would cause performance to be lower).

Investment Objective

The Fund seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund. You may qualify for sales charge discounts on purchases of Class A shares of the Fund if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $25,000 in Class A shares of the RBC Funds. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial professional and under the subheading "Reducing the Initial Sales Charge on Purchases of Class A Shares" on page 58 of this Prospectus.

1 A 1.00% CDSC is imposed on redemptions of Class A shares made within 12 months of a purchase of $1 million or more of Class A shares on which no front-end sales charge was paid.

2 Annual Fund Operating Expenses have been restated to reflect the elimination of the administration fee that became effective on October 2, 2017.

3 The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or pay operating expenses in order to limit the Fund's total expenses (excluding brokerage and other investment-related costs, interest, taxes, dues, fees and other charges of governments and their agencies, extraordinary expenses such as litigation and indemnification, other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business and acquired fund fees and expenses) to 1.33% of the Fund's average daily net assets for Class A shares and 1.08% for Class I shares. This expense limitation agreement is in place until January 31, 2019 and may not be terminated by the Advisor prior to that date. The expense limitation agreement may be revised or terminated by the Fund's board of trustees if the board consents to a revision or termination as being in the best interests of the Fund. The Advisor is entitled to recoup from the Fund or class the fees and/or operating expenses waived or reimbursed during the previous 12 months, provided the Fund is able to do so and remain in compliance with the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived or expenses paid. The Fund may not, however, recapture prior year expenses incurred under previous expense cap arrangements solely because of an increase in the current year's expense cap.

Example: This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. The costs for the Fund reflect the net expenses of the Fund that result from the contractual expense limitation in the first year only. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	Class A	Class I
One Year	$ 703	$ 110
Three Years	$1,084	$ 371
Five Years	$1,489	$ 652
Ten Years	$2,616	$1,454

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 26% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund normally invests primarily in common stocks of companies whose market capitalizations at the time of the Fund's initial purchase are below the dollar-weighted median market capitalization of companies in the Russell 2000® Index, which are often referred to as "micro-cap" companies. However, the Fund is more broadly authorized to invest in common stocks of small capitalization companies, defined for this purpose as companies whose market capitalizations at the time of initial purchase are at or below the highest capitalization represented in the Russell 2000® Index. As of December 31, 2017, the highest capitalization represented in the Russell 2000® Index was $21.7 billion. The Fund's benchmark index is the Russell Microcap Index.

The Fund seeks to provide long-term growth of capital while taking a low risk approach to small company investing. The Fund selects stocks of companies that are selling at prices the Advisor believes are attractive in relation to the companies' fundamental financial characteristics and business prospects. The Advisor uses a bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund's portfolio with a focus on companies' competitive positions, strong balance sheets, and profit margin improvement potential. The Advisor believes that portfolios of smaller companies with low valuations, long-term attractive business fundamentals, and near-term profitability improvement potential should produce strong absolute and risk-adjusted returns over time.

Principal Risks

The value of your investment in the Fund will change daily, which means that you could lose money. An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. By itself, the Fund is not a balanced investment program. There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its goal. The principal risks of investing in the Fund include:

Active Management Risk. The Fund is actively managed and its performance therefore will reflect in part the Advisor's ability to make investment decisions that are suited to achieve the Fund's investment objective.

Equity Market Risk. Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally.

Market Risk. The markets in which the Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably. The success of the Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. A Fund's investments may be overweighted from time to time in one or more sectors, which will increase the Fund's exposure to risk of loss from adverse developments affecting those sectors.

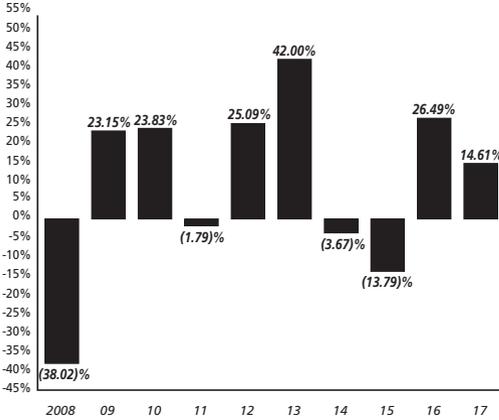

Small and Micro Company Risk. Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, the Fund's net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Because of this, if the Fund wants to sell a large quantity of stock of a smaller company, the Fund may have to sell at a lower price than the Advisor might prefer, or it may have to sell in small quantities over a period of time. Small company risk can be intensified when investing in micro-cap companies. The prices of micro-cap stocks are generally more volatile and their markets are less liquid relative to larger companies. An investment in the Fund may involve considerably more risk of loss and its returns may differ significantly from funds investing in larger companies.

Performance Information

The bar chart and performance table provide an indication of the risks of an investment in the Fund by showing changes in performance from year to year and by showing how the Fund's average annual total returns (before and after taxes) compare with those of a broad-based securities index. The returns for Class A shares may be different than the returns of Class I shares shown in the bar chart and performance table because expenses of the two classes differ. The bar chart shows the Fund's performance for the past ten calendar years. Past performance (before and after taxes) does not indicate how the Fund will perform in the future. Performance Table

The table below shows before and after-tax returns for Class I shares only. Before-tax returns for Class A shares assume applicable maximum sales charges. After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Performance shown for periods prior to the inception date of Class A (April 19, 2004) and Class I (September 30, 2004) is based on the performance of a class of shares for a fund that is no longer offered, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses and any applicable sales charges of the applicable class. The inception date of the Fund and the prior class of shares is December 2, 1983.

This expense limitation agreement is in place until January 31, 2019 and may not be terminated by the Advisor prior to that date. The expense limitation agreement may be revised or terminated by the Fund's board of trustees if the board consents to a revision or termination as being in the best interests of the Fund. The Advisor is entitled to recoup from the Fund or class the fees and/or operating expenses waived or reimbursed during any of the previous 12 months, provided the Fund is able to do so and remain in compliance with the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived or expenses paid. The Fund may not, however, recapture prior year expenses incurred under previous expense cap arrangements solely because of an increase in the current year's expense cap.

Example: This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. The costs for the Fund reflect the net expenses of the Fund that result from the contractual expense limitation in the first year only. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	Class A	Class I	Class R6
One Year	$ 685	$ 92	$ 89
Three Years	$ 969	$ 326	$1,481
Five Years	$1,274	$ 578	$2,824
Ten Years	$2,138	$1,301	$5,974

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 29% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small companies. The Fund currently considers "small companies" to be those within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Index at the time of initial purchase by the Fund. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Index was approximately $23 million to $21.7 billion.

The Fund seeks to provide long-term growth of capital while taking a low risk approach to small company investing. The Fund selects stocks of companies that are selling at prices the Advisor believes are attractive in relation to the companies' fundamental financial characteristics and business prospects. The Advisor uses a bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund's portfolio with a focus on companies' competitive positions, strong balance sheets, and profit margin improvement potential. The Advisor believes that portfolios of smaller companies with low valuations, long-term attractive business fundamentals, and near-term profitability improvement potential should produce strong absolute and risk-adjusted returns over time.

Principal Risks

The value of your investment in the Fund will change daily, which means that you could lose money. An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. By itself, the Fund is not a balanced investment program. There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its goal. The principal risks of investing in the Fund include:

Active Management Risk. The Fund is actively managed and its performance therefore will reflect in part the Advisor's ability to make investment decisions that are suited to achieve the Fund's investment objective.

Equity Market Risk. Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally.

Market Risk. The markets in which the Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably. The success of the Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. A Fund's investments may be overweighted from time to time in one or more sectors, which will increase the Fund's exposure to risk of loss from adverse developments affecting those sectors.

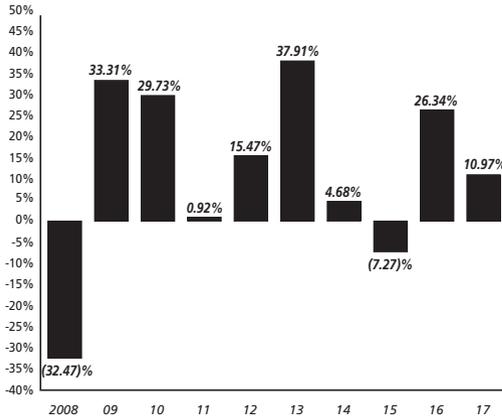

Small and Micro Company Risk. Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, a Fund's net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Because of this, if a Fund wants to sell a large quantity of stock of a smaller company, the Fund may have to sell at a lower price than the Advisor might prefer, or it may have to sell in small quantities over a period of time. Small company risk can be intensified when investing in micro-cap companies. The prices of micro-cap stocks are generally more volatile and their markets are less liquid relative to larger companies. An investment in the Fund may involve considerably more risk of loss and its returns may differ significantly from funds investing in larger companies.

Performance Information

The bar chart and performance table provide an indication of the risks of an investment in the Fund by showing changes in performance from year to year and by showing how the Fund's average annual total returns (before and after taxes) compare with those of a broad-based securities index. The returns of Class A and Class R6 shares may be different than the returns of Class I shares shown in the bar chart and performance table because expenses of the classes differ. The bar chart shows the Fund's performance for the past ten calendar years. Past performance (before and after taxes) does not indicate how the Fund will perform in the future. Updated information on the Fund's performance can be obtained by visiting www.rbcgam.us or by calling 1-800-422-2766.

Best quarter:	Q2	2009	28.47%
Worst quarter:	Q4	2008	(26.15)%

Performance Table

The table below shows before and after-tax returns for Class I shares only. Before-tax returns for Class A shares assume applicable maximum sales charges. After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold Fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as qualified retirement plans. In some cases, returns after taxes on distributions and sale of Fund shares may be higher than returns before taxes because the calculations assume that the investor received a tax benefit for any loss incurred on the sale of the shares. Class I shares were previously designated Class S shares prior to November 27, 2012. The inception date of the Fund (Class S) is August 5, 1991. Performance shown for periods prior to the inception date of Class A (April 19, 2004) and Class R6 (November 21, 2016) is based on the performance of Class S shares, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses and any applicable sales charges of the applicable class.

Investment Objective

The Fund seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund. You may qualify for sales charge discounts on purchases of Class A shares of the Fund if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $25,000 in Class A shares of the RBC Funds. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial professional and under the subheading “Reducing the Initial Sales Charge on Purchases of Class A Shares” on page 58 of this Prospectus.

	Class A	Class I

Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses after Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement	1.33%	1.08%

- 1 A 1.00% CDSC is imposed on redemptions of Class A shares made within 12 months of a purchase of $1 million or more of Class A shares on which no front-end sales charge was paid.
- 2 Annual Fund Operating Expenses have been restated to reflect the elimination of the administration fee that became effective on October 2, 2017.
- 3 Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses differ from the ratio of expenses to average net assets shown in the Financial Highlights, which reflect the operating expenses of the Fund and do not include acquired fund fees and expenses.
- 4 The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or pay operating expenses in order to limit the Fund's total expenses (excluding brokerage and other investment-related costs, interest, taxes, dues, fees and other charges of governments and their agencies, extraordinary expenses such as litigation and indemnification, other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business and acquired fund fees and expenses) to 1.32% for Class A and 1.07% for Class I. This expense limitation agreement is in place until January 31, 2019 and may not be terminated by the Advisor prior to that date. The expense limitation agreement may be revised or terminated by the Fund's board of trustees if the board consents to a revision or termination as being in the best interests of the Fund. The Advisor is entitled to recoup from the Fund or class the fees and/or operating expenses waived or reimbursed during the previous 12 months, provided the Fund is able to do so and remain in compliance with the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived or expenses paid. The Fund may not, however, recapture prior year expenses incurred under previous expense cap arrangements solely because of an increase in the current year's expense cap.

Example: This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. The costs for the Fund reflect the net expenses of the Fund that result from the contractual expense limitation in the first year only. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	Class A	Class I
One Year	$ 703	$ 110
Three Years	$1,044	$ 367
Five Years	$1,408	$ 644
Ten Years	$2,430	$1,433

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 9% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its assets in microcap value stocks. The Fund buys microcap value stocks using a quantitative model. Microcap value stocks combine the characteristics of "microcap stocks" and "value stocks." The Fund defines "microcap stocks" as stocks of companies that have market capitalization at the time of the Fund's initial purchase of between $20 million and the market capitalization that marks the point between the 8th and 9th deciles of New York Stock Exchange listed stocks ("upper limit"). At the close of business on November 22, 2017, this "upper limit" was approximately $658 million. The Fund defines "value stocks" primarily as those with low price-to-book characteristics.

Stocks may be purchased for the Fund's portfolio if they meet the "microcap stock" and "value stock" criteria described above, are issued by companies which have reported net income for the twelve month period prior to purchase of the stock, and have a low price-to-book valuation. Low liquidity may eliminate a stock which otherwise meets market capitalization and value criteria or may result in the stock being assigned a lower portfolio weighting. There will be a portfolio review, which may result in a readjustment of holdings, at least once per year. Sales of portfolio holdings may be made gradually over time as required by the liquidity criteria of an individual security.

Principal Risks

The value of your investment in the Fund will change daily, which means that you could lose money. An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. By itself, the Fund is not a balanced investment program. There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its goal. The principal risks of investing in the Fund include:

Active Management Risk. The Fund is actively managed and its performance therefore will reflect in part the Advisor's ability to make investment decisions that are suited to achieve the Fund's investment objective.

Equity Market Risk. Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally.

Market Risk. The markets in which the Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably. The success of the Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. A Fund's investments may be overweighted from time to time in one or more sectors, which will increase the Fund's exposure to risk of loss from adverse developments affecting those sectors.

Model and Data Risk. The Advisor uses a quantitative model to buy stocks. To the extent the model used by the Advisor or the information and data supplied by third parties are incorrect or incomplete, the decisions made by the Advisor in reliance thereon could expose the Fund to potential risks and could lead to the Fund incurring losses on its investments.

Small and Micro Company Risk. Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, a Fund's net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Because of this, if a Fund wants to sell a large quantity of stock of a smaller company, the Fund may have to sell at a lower price than the Advisor might prefer, or it may have to sell in small quantities over a period of time. Small company risk can be intensified when investing in micro-cap companies. The prices of micro-cap stocks are generally more volatile and their markets are less liquid relative to larger companies. An investment in the Fund may involve considerably more risk of loss and its returns may differ significantly from funds investing in larger companies.

Value Investing Risk. Value stocks may not increase in price as anticipated by the Advisor if they fall out of favor with investors or the markets favor faster-growing companies.

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 35% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small companies that are considered to be undervalued in relation to earnings, dividends and/or assets. Small companies are defined by the Fund as companies that fall within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Value Index at the time of purchase. The Russell 2000® Value Index is an unmanaged index of common stock prices that measures the performance of those Russell 2,000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range for the Russell 2000® Value Index was approximately $23 million to $8.9 billion.

The Advisor uses a disciplined, bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund's portfolio with a focus on fundamental research and qualitative analysis. This analysis considers factors such as attractive and sustainable business fundamentals, near-term profitability improvement potential, financial strength, management strength and low valuation. The Fund normally invests for the long-term, but may sell a security at any time the Advisor considers the security to be overvalued or otherwise unfavorable. The Fund expects to invest primarily in securities of U.S.-based companies, but may also invest in securities of non-U.S. companies.

The Fund may invest in the aggregate up to 20% of its assets in companies with public stock market capitalizations outside the range of companies constituting the Russell 2000® Value Index at the time of investment and in fixed income securities, such as government, corporate and bank debt obligations.

Principal Risks

The value of your investment in the Fund will change daily, which means that you could lose money. An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. By itself, the Fund is not a balanced investment program. There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its goal. The principal risks of investing in the Fund include:

Active Management Risk. The Fund is actively managed and its performance therefore will reflect in part the Advisor's ability to make investment decisions that are suited to achieve the Fund's investment objective.

Equity Market Risk. Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally.

Foreign Risk. Foreign securities may be subject to risk of loss because of less foreign government regulation, less public information and less economic, political, environmental and social stability in these countries. Loss may also result from the imposition of exchange controls, confiscations and other government restrictions, or from problems in registration, settlement or custody. Foreign risk also involves the risk of negative foreign currency rate fluctuations, which may cause the value of securities denominated in such foreign currency (or other instruments through which the Fund has exposure to foreign currencies) to decline in value. Currency exchange rates may fluctuate significantly over short periods of time. Additionally, foreign securities and dividends and interest payable on those securities may be subject to foreign taxes, including taxes withheld from payments on those securities.

Market Risk. The markets in which the Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably. The success of the Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. A Fund's investments may be overweighted from time to time in one or more sectors, which will increase the Fund's exposure to risk of loss from adverse developments affecting those sectors.

Small and Micro Company Risk. Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, a Fund’s net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase shares of a Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the Fund and/or the Advisor may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Fund over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.

Investment Objectives

With the exception of the RBC Small Cap Value Fund, each Fund's investment objective described in the "Fund Summary" section of this Prospectus is fundamental and cannot be changed without shareholder approval. The investment objective of the RBC Small Cap Value Fund is non-fundamental and may be changed by the Board of Trustees ("Board") without shareholder approval.

Principal Investment Strategies

The information below describes in greater detail each Fund's principal investment strategies. A full discussion of all permissible investments can be found in the Funds' Statement of Additional Information ("SAI").

RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund. The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation by normally investing at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small-and mid-capitalization growth companies that fall within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2500™ Growth Index at the time of investment. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range for the Russell 2500™ Growth Index was approximately $23 million to $17.2 billion. The 80% investment policy may be changed by the Board without shareholder approval. The Fund will provide notice to shareholders at least 60 days prior to any change to its 80% investment policy. The Advisor uses a bottom-up investment approach employing fundamental analysis to identify individual companies for inclusion in the Fund's portfolio. In analyzing companies for investment, the Advisor looks for, among other things, companies that it believes have:

- Positive future revenue and earnings growth prospects
- Consistent financial results
- High returns on equity and profit margins relative to industry peers
- A strong balance sheet
- Attractive valuation metrics

In addition, the Advisor prefers companies that it believes possess the following qualitative characteristics:

- Superior company management
- A unique market niche and broad market opportunities
- Solid accounting methodology

The Fund's portfolio will normally consist of approximately 70 to 90 companies.

RBC Enterprise Fund. The Fund normally invests primarily in common stocks of companies whose market capitalizations at the time of the Fund's initial purchase are below the dollar-weighted median market capitalization of companies in the Russell 2000® Index, which are often referred to as "micro-cap" companies. However, the Fund is more broadly authorized to invest in common stocks of small capitalization companies, defined for this purpose as companies whose market capitalizations at the time of initial purchase are at or below the highest capitalization represented in the Russell 2000® Index. As of December 31, 2017, the highest capitalization represented in the Russell 2000® Index was $21.7 billion. The Fund's benchmark index is the Russell Microcap Index.

More on the Funds' Investment Objectives, Principal Investment Strategies and Principal Risks

The Fund seeks to provide long-term growth of capital while taking a low risk approach to small company investing. The Fund selects stocks of companies that are selling at prices the Advisor believes are attractive in relation to the companies' fundamental financial characteristics and business prospects. The primary valuation ratios used to evaluate stocks are:

- price relative to earnings
- price relative to sales
- price relative to assets as measured by book value
- price relative to cash flow

The Advisor uses a bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund's portfolio with a focus on companies' competitive positions, strong balance sheets, and profit margin improvement potential. The Advisor believes that portfolios of smaller companies with low valuations, long-term attractive business fundamentals, and near-term profitability improvement potential should produce strong absolute and risk-adjusted returns over time.

The Fund normally invests for the long-term but may sell a security at any time that the Advisor considers it to be overvalued or otherwise unfavorable.

RBC Small Cap Core Fund. The Fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small companies. The 80% investment policy may be changed by the Board without shareholder approval. The Fund will provide notice to shareholders at least 60 days prior to any change to its 80% investment policy. The Fund currently considers "small companies" to be those within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Index at the time of initial purchase by the Fund. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Index was approximately $23 million to $21.7 billion. The Fund generally invests in stocks listed on national or regional exchanges or listed over-the-counter (on NASDAQ) with prices quoted daily in the financial press.

The Fund selects stocks of companies that are selling at prices the Advisor believes are attractive in relation to the companies' fundamental financial characteristics and business prospects. The primary valuation ratios used to evaluate stocks are:

- price relative to earnings
- price relative to sales
- price relative to assets as measured by book value
- price relative to cash flow

The Advisor uses a bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund's portfolio with a focus on companies' competitive positions, strong balance sheets, and profit margin improvement potential. The Advisor believes that portfolios of smaller companies with low valuations, long-term attractive business fundamentals, and near-term profitability improvement potential should produce strong absolute and risk-adjusted returns over time.

The Fund normally invests for the long-term, but may sell a security at any time that the Advisor considers it to be overvalued or otherwise unfavorable.

RBC Microcap Value Fund. The Fund invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its assets in microcap value stocks. The 80% investment policy may be changed by the Board without shareholder approval. The Fund will provide notice to shareholders at least 60 days prior to any change to its 80% investment policy. The Fund buys microcap value stocks using a quantitative model. Microcap value stocks combine the characteristics of “microcap stocks” and “value stocks.” The Fund defines “microcap stocks” as stocks of companies that have market capitalization at the time of the Fund’s initial purchase of between $20 million and the market capitalization that marks the point between the 8th and 9th deciles of New York Stock Exchange listed stocks (“upper limit”). At the close of business on November 22, 2017, this “upper limit” was approximately $658 million. The “upper limit” is updated annually. The Fund defines “value stocks” primarily as those with low price-to-book characteristics.

Stocks may be purchased for the Fund’s portfolio if they meet the “microcap stock” and “value stock” criteria described above, are issued by companies which have reported net income for the twelve month period prior to purchase of the stock, and have a low price to book valuation. Low liquidity may eliminate a stock which otherwise meets market capitalization and value criteria or may result in the stock being assigned a lower portfolio weighting. There will be a portfolio review, which may result in a readjustment of holdings, at least once per year. Sales of portfolio holdings may be made gradually over time as required by the liquidity criteria of an individual security.

RBC Small Cap Value Fund. The Fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in common stocks of small companies that are considered to be undervalued in relation to earnings, dividends and/or assets. The 80% investment policy may be changed by the Board without shareholder approval. The Fund will provide notice to shareholders at least 60 days prior to any change to its 80% investment policy. Small companies are defined by the Fund as companies that fall within the market capitalization range of the Russell 2000® Value Index at the time of purchase. As of December 31, 2017, the market capitalization range for the Russell 2000® Value Index was approximately $23 million to $8.9 billion. The Advisor uses a disciplined, bottom-up approach to select stocks for the Fund’s portfolio with a focus on fundamental research and qualitative analysis. This analysis considers factors such as attractive and sustainable business fundamentals, near-term profitability improvement potential, financial strength, management strength and low valuation. The Fund normally invests for the long-term, but may sell a security at any time the Advisor considers the security to be overvalued or otherwise unfavorable. The Fund expects to invest primarily in securities of U.S.-based companies, but may also invest in securities of non-U.S. companies.

Investing for Temporary Defensive Purposes

Each Fund may respond to adverse market, economic, political or other conditions by investing up to 100% of its assets in temporary defensive instruments, such as cash, short-term debt obligations or other high quality investments. This could prevent losses, but, if a Fund is investing defensively, it may not be investing according to its principal investment strategy and may not achieve its investment objective.

Principal Risks

All the Funds are affected by changes in the economy, or in securities and other markets. There is also the possibility that investment decisions the Advisor makes with respect to the investments of the Funds will not accomplish what they were designed to achieve or that the investments will have disappointing performance.

Because the Funds hold securities with fluctuating market prices, the value of each Fund's shares will vary as its portfolio securities increase or decrease in value. Therefore, the value of your investment in a Fund could go down as well as up and you can lose money by investing in a Fund.

Your investment is not a bank deposit, and it is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency, entity, or person.

The principal risks of investing in each Fund are identified in the "Fund Summary" section of this Prospectus and are further described below.

Active Management Risk (All Funds). Each Fund is subject to management risk because it is an actively managed investment portfolio. The Advisor and each individual portfolio manager will apply investment techniques and risk analyses in making investment decisions for the Funds, but there can be no guarantee that these decisions will produce the desired results. Additionally, legislative, regulatory, or tax restrictions, policies or developments may affect the investment techniques available in connection with managing the Funds and may also adversely affect the ability of the Funds to achieve their investment objectives.

Equity Market Risk (All Funds). Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in an issuer. Equity securities also include, among other things, preferred stocks, convertible stocks and warrants. The values of equity securities, such as common stocks and preferred stocks, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally. They may also decline due to factors which affect a particular industry or industries, such as labor shortages or increased production costs and competitive conditions within an industry. Equity securities generally have greater price volatility than fixed income securities. To the extent that a Fund invests in instruments that provide exposure to equity securities (such as equity linked securities), those instruments are subject to the same risks as direct investments in the underlying equity securities. If an underlying equity security decreases in value, the value of the corresponding instrument will likely decrease; however, the performance of such an instrument may not correlate exactly to the performance of the underlying equity security that it seeks to replicate. Such instruments are also subject to counterparty risk.

Foreign Risk (RBC Small Cap Value Fund only). Foreign securities may be subject to risk of loss because of less foreign government regulation, less public information and less economic, political, environmental and social stability in these countries. Loss may also result from political, diplomatic, or regional conflicts; terrorism or war; internal or external policies or economic sanctions limiting or restricting foreign investment, the movement of assets or other economic activity, such as the imposition of exchange controls, confiscations and other government restrictions; or from problems in registration, settlement or custody. Foreign risk also involves the risk of negative foreign currency rate fluctuations, which may cause the value of securities denominated in such foreign currency (or other instruments through which the Fund has exposure to foreign currencies) to decline in value. Currency exchange rates may fluctuate significantly over short periods of time. Additionally, foreign securities and dividends and interest payable on those securities may be subject to foreign taxes, including taxes withheld from payments on those securities.

Growth Investing Risk (RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund only). Growth stock prices reflect projections of future earnings or revenues, and can, therefore, fall dramatically if the company fails to meet those projections.

Market Risk (All Funds). One or more markets in which a Fund invests may go down in value, sometimes sharply and unpredictably, and the value of a Fund's portfolio securities may fall or fail to rise. Market risk may affect a single issuer, sector of the economy, industry or the market as a whole. Events in one market may adversely impact a seemingly unrelated market. The success of a Fund's investment program may be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws, and national and international political circumstances. These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of investments held by a Fund. Unexpected volatility or illiquidity could impair a Fund's profitability or result in losses.

Mid-Sized Company Risk (RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund only). Stocks of mid-sized companies may carry greater risks than those of larger companies because mid-sized companies may have less management experience, competitive strengths and financial resources than larger companies. They may be less liquid than stocks of larger companies and may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, mid-sized company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies.

More on the Funds' Investment Objectives, Principal Investment Strategies and Principal Risks

Model and Data Risk (RBC Microcap Value Fund only). The Advisor uses a quantitative model to buy stocks. To the extent the model used by the Advisor or the information and data supplied by third parties are incorrect or incomplete, the decisions made by the Advisor in reliance thereon could expose the Fund to potential risks and could lead to the Fund incurring losses on its investments.

Small and Micro Company Risk (All Funds). Stocks of smaller and less seasoned companies involve greater risks than those of larger companies. These companies may not have the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Smaller companies may be more sensitive to changes in the economy overall. Historically, small company stocks have been more volatile than those of larger companies. As a result, a Fund's net asset value may be subject to rapid and substantial changes. Small company stocks tend to be bought and sold less often and in smaller amounts than larger company stocks. Because of this, if a Fund wants to sell a large quantity of a small company stock, the Fund may have to sell at a lower price than the Advisor might prefer, or it may have to sell in small quantities over a period of time.

Value Investing Risk (RBC Microcap Value Fund and RBC Small Cap Value Fund only). Value stocks may not increase in price as anticipated by the Advisor if they fall out of favor with investors or the markets favor faster-growing companies.

Additional Risks

In addition to the principal investment risks described above, the Funds will generally be subject to the following additional risks:

Large Shareholder Transactions Risk. A Fund may experience adverse effects when certain large shareholders purchase or redeem large amounts of shares of the Fund. Such large shareholder redemptions may cause the Fund to sell portfolio securities at times when it would not otherwise do so, which may negatively impact the Fund's NAV and liquidity. Similarly, large Fund share purchases may adversely affect the Fund's performance to the extent that the Fund is delayed in investing new cash and is required to maintain a larger cash position than it ordinarily would. Large redemptions also could accelerate the realization of capital gains, increase a Fund's transaction costs and impact a Fund's performance.

Liquidation Risk. To the extent authorized by law, the Fund reserves the right to discontinue offering shares at any time, merge, reorganize itself or any class of shares or cease operations and liquidate.

Liquidity Risk. The Funds may be subject to the risk that a particular investment may be difficult to purchase or sell and that the Fund may be unable to sell illiquid securities (including securities deemed liquid at the time of purchase that subsequently became less liquid) at an advantageous time or price or achieve its desired level of exposure to a certain sector. Illiquid securities are securities that cannot be disposed of within seven days in the ordinary course of business at approximately the value at which the

Funds have valued the securities. If a Fund's principal investment strategies involve foreign (non-U.S.) securities and other securities with substantial market and/or credit risk, the Fund will tend to have a significant exposure to liquidity risk. Liquidity risk may be magnified in a rising interest rate environment, when credit quality is deteriorating or in other circumstances where investor redemptions from fixed income mutual funds may be higher than normal.

Operational Risk. The Fund's investments may be adversely affected due to the operational process of the Fund's service providers, including the Advisor, transfer agent, custodian or administrator. The Fund may be subject to losses arising from inadequate or failed internal controls, processes and systems, or from human or external events.

Regulatory Risk. Entities that are part of banking organizations, such as the Advisor and its affiliates, are subject to extensive government regulation. Government regulation may change frequently and may have significant effects, including limiting the ability of the Advisor and its affiliates from engaging in certain trading activities, which may adversely impact the Funds. For example, the so-called "Volcker Rule" prohibits the Advisor and its affiliates from engaging in certain trading activities. A Fund may be adversely impacted by this rule if the Advisor or its affiliates own 25% or more of the Fund's shares outside of any seeding period permitted by the rule. Generally, the permitted seeding period is three years from the implementation of the Fund's investment strategy. These restrictions may prevent a Fund from maintaining sufficient seed capital and may cause the Fund to liquidate at the end of the period if the Fund is not able to achieve sufficient scale. Funds that are not managed by entities that are part of banking organizations are not subject to these limitations.

Investment Advisor

The Funds are advised by RBC Global Asset Management (U.S.) Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada (“RBC”). RBC is one of North America’s leading diversified financial services companies and provides personal and commercial banking, wealth management services, insurance, corporate and investment banking, and transaction processing services on a global basis. RBC employs approximately 80,000 people who serve more than 16 million personal, business, public sector and institutional clients through offices in Canada, the U.S. and 35 other countries around the world. The Advisor has been registered with the SEC as an investment advisor since 1983, and has been a portfolio manager of publicly-offered mutual funds since 1986. The Advisor maintains its offices at 50 South Sixth Street, Suite 2350, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55402. As of September 30, 2017, the Advisor’s investment team managed approximately $34.7 billion in assets for corporations, public and private pension plans, Taft-Hartley plans, charitable institutions, foundations, endowments, municipalities, registered mutual funds, private investment funds, trust programs, foreign funds such as UCITS funds, individuals (including high net worth individuals), wrap sponsors and other U.S. and international institutions.

For these advisory services, each Fund paid a fee (expressed as a percentage of average daily net assets) during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2017 as follows:

RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund	0.70%
RBC Enterprise Fund	0.92% ¹
RBC Small Cap Core Fund	0.85%
RBC Microcap Value Fund	0.90%
RBC Small Cap Value Fund	0.80%

1 Pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement for the RBC Enterprise Fund, the Fund pays a contractual fee as follows: 1.00% of the Fund’s average net assets of $30 million or less and 0.90% of net assets over $30 million.

The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or pay operating expenses through January 31, 2019 for the Funds in order to maintain net annual fund operating expenses of the Funds as set forth below:

	Class A	Class I	Class R6
RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund	1.07%	0.82%	0.77%
RBC Enterprise Fund	1.33%	1.08%	N/A
RBC Small Cap Core Fund	1.15%	0.90%	0.87%
RBC Microcap Value Fund	1.32%	1.07%	N/A
RBC Small Cap Value Fund	N/A	0.95%	0.90%

The expense limitation agreement for all Funds excludes brokerage and other investment-related costs, interest, taxes, dues, fees and other charges of governments and their agencies, extraordinary expenses such as litigation

Management

(including legal and audit fees and other costs in contemplation of or incident thereto) and indemnification, other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of each Fund's business and fees and expenses incurred indirectly by the Fund as a result of investment in shares of another investment company. The Advisor is entitled to recoup from each Fund or class the fees and/or operating expenses waived or reimbursed during any of the previous 12 months (3 years for the RBC Small Cap Value Fund), provided the Fund is able to do so and remain in compliance with the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived or expenses paid.

Information regarding the factors considered by the Board of Trustees of each Fund in connection with the most recent approval of the Investment Advisory Agreements with the Advisor is provided in the Funds' most recent Annual Report.

The Advisor provides certain administrative services necessary for the operation of the Funds, including among other things, (i) providing office space, equipment and facilities for maintaining the Funds' organization, (ii) preparing the Trust's registration statement, proxy statements and all annual and semi-annual reports to Fund shareholders, and (iii) general supervision of the operation of the Funds, including coordination of the services performed by the Funds' Advisor, Distributor, custodian, independent accountants, legal counsel and others.

Additional Payments. The Advisor may make payments, out of its own resources and at no additional cost to the Funds or shareholders, to certain broker-dealers, mutual fund supermarkets, or other financial institutions ("Intermediaries") in connection with the provision of administrative services; the distribution of the Funds' shares; and reimbursement of ticket or operational charges (fees that an institution charges its representatives for effecting transactions in the Funds' shares). In addition, certain Intermediaries may receive fees from the Funds for providing recordkeeping and other services for individual shareholders and/or retirement plan participants.

Conflicts of Interest Risk. An investment in a Fund may be subject to actual or potential conflicts of interest. For example, the Advisor and/or its affiliates may face conflicts of interest when receiving compensation for services provided by affiliates or in the side-by-side management of Funds and other client accounts. The Advisor and/or its affiliates may make investment decisions that differ from and/or negatively impact those made on behalf of a Fund. For more information about conflicts of interest, see the Potential Conflicts of Interest section in the SAI.

Shareholder Information

Pricing of Fund Shares

How NAV Is Calculated. The net asset value (“NAV”) is the value of a single share. A separate NAV is calculated for each share class of a Fund. The NAV is calculated by adding the total value of a Fund’s investments and other assets, determining the proportion of that total allocable to the particular class, subtracting the liabilities allocable to the class and then dividing that figure by the number of outstanding shares of that class.

1. NAV is calculated separately for each class of shares.
2. You can find the Funds’ NAVs daily in various newspapers, at www.bloomberg.com, www.rbcgam.us, or by calling 1-800-422-2766.

The per share NAV of each Fund is determined each day the New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”) is open for trading or (at the Fund’s option) on days the primary trading markets for the Fund’s portfolio instruments are open (“Value Date”) as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE (generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time or such other time as determined by the NYSE). The Funds will not treat an intraday unscheduled disruption in NYSE trading as a closure of the NYSE and will price their shares as of the regularly scheduled NYSE closing time, if the particular disruption directly affects only the NYSE (“Value Time”).

Your order for purchase, sale or exchange of shares is generally based on the next applicable price calculated after your order is received in good order by the Funds’ transfer agent. For example: If you place a purchase order to buy shares of a Fund, it must be received before 4:00 p.m. Eastern time in order to receive the NAV calculated at 4:00 p.m. If your order is received after 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, it will be based on the NAV calculated on the next business day at 4:00 p.m. Eastern time. Also, as further explained in the “Purchasing and Adding to Your Shares” section, if a purchase order in proper form is received by an authorized financial intermediary, the order will be treated as if it had been received by the Funds’ transfer agent at the time it is received by the intermediary.

You may purchase, redeem, or exchange shares of the Funds on any day when the NYSE is open. Purchases, redemptions, and exchanges may be restricted in the event of an early or unscheduled close of the NYSE if the primary trading markets of the Funds are disrupted as well. Even if the NYSE is closed, a Fund may accept purchase, redemption, and exchange orders on a Value Date if the Fund’s management believes there is an adequate market to meet purchase, redemption, and exchange requests. On such days, the Funds would also price shares in accordance with the above procedures.

Because certain Funds may own securities that are primarily listed on foreign exchanges which may trade on days when the Fund does not price its shares, the value of those Funds’ investments may change on days when shareholders will not be able to purchase or redeem shares.

Shareholder Information

Valuation of Portfolio Securities. On behalf of each Fund, the Board of Trustees has adopted Pricing and Valuation Procedures for determining the value of Fund shares in accordance with applicable law. The Funds' securities are generally valued at current market prices. In accordance with the Funds' pricing and valuation procedures, fixed income securities are generally valued based on evaluated prices received from third-party pricing services or from broker-dealers who make markets in the securities. In general, when the market value of a portfolio security is readily available, the Funds will rely on independent pricing services or market quotes from independent broker-dealers to determine the market value of portfolio securities. The market value of an equity security is generally determined on the basis of last reported sales prices, or if no sales are reported, based on quotes obtained from a quotation reporting system, established market makers or pricing services. Domestic and foreign fixed income securities and non-exchange traded derivatives are generally priced using valuations provided by independent pricing vendors. Prices obtained from pricing vendors utilize both dealer-supplied valuations and electronic data processing techniques that take into account appropriate factors such as institutional-size trading in similar groups of securities, yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity and type of issue. Exchange traded options, futures and options on futures are valued at their most recent sale price on the exchange on which they are primarily traded. Investments in open-end investment companies are valued at the net asset value of those companies, and those companies may use fair value pricing as described in their prospectuses.

The Pricing and Valuation Procedures provide that, in situations where it is determined that market quotations are not readily available from a pricing service or independent broker-dealer, or the valuations are deemed to be unreliable or do not accurately reflect the value of the securities, Board approved "fair valuation" methodologies will be used. Under the Pricing and Valuation Procedures, fair valuation methodologies may also be used in situations such as the following: a price is determined to be stale (for example, it cannot be valued using the standard pricing method because a recent sale price is not available) on more than five consecutive days on which the Fund calculates its NAV; a foreign market is closed on a day when the U.S. markets are open and the last available price in the foreign market is determined not to represent a fair value; or a significant valuation event is determined to have occurred pursuant to the Pricing and Valuation Procedures. Significant valuation events may include, but are not limited to, the following: an event affecting the value of a security traded on a foreign market occurs between the close of that market and the Value Time; an extraordinary event like a natural disaster or terrorist act occurs; a large market fluctuation occurs; or an adverse development arises with respect to a specific issuer, such as a bankruptcy filing. These methodologies are intended to ensure that each Fund's NAV accurately reflects the value for the underlying portfolio securities. As a result, effective use of fair valuations may prevent shareholder dilution. In addition, for Funds that invest in foreign securities, fair valuations may diminish opportunities for a short-term trader to take advantage of time zone differences between the foreign markets on which the securities are traded and the Value Time. "Fair value" is deemed to be the amount that the Fund might reasonably expect to receive for the security upon its current sale. Each such determination shall be based on a consideration of all relevant factors, which are likely to vary from one pricing context to another.

Investments initially valued in currencies other than the U.S. Dollar are converted to the U.S. Dollar using foreign exchange rate quotations received from a pricing vendor as of the Value Time on each Value Date. The value of securities traded in markets outside the United States may be affected on a day that is not a Value Date and an investor is not able to purchase, exchange or redeem shares of the Funds.

Investment Minimums

You may purchase shares of the Funds through the Funds' Distributor or through banks, brokers and other investment representatives, which may charge additional fees and may require higher minimum investments or impose other limitations or requirements on buying and selling shares.¹ For qualified retirement benefit plans, there is no minimum requirement for initial investment in the Funds. If you purchase shares through an investment representative, that party is responsible for transmitting orders by close of business and may have an earlier cut-off time for purchase and sale requests. Consult your investment representative or institution for specific information.

¹ Certain broker-dealers and other financial intermediaries are authorized to accept purchase orders on behalf of a Fund which are processed based on the Fund's net asset value next determined after your order is received by an organization in proper order before 4:00 p.m., Eastern time, or such earlier time as may be required by an organization. These organizations may be authorized to designate other intermediaries to act in this capacity. These organizations may vary in terms of how they process your orders, and they may charge you transaction fees on purchases of Fund shares and may also impose other charges or restrictions or account options that differ from those applicable to shareholders who purchase shares directly through the Fund or its transfer agent, U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC. These organizations may be the shareholders of record of your shares. These intermediaries are responsible for transmitting requests and delivering funds on a timely basis. The Fund is not responsible for ensuring that the organizations carry out their obligations to their customers.

Shareholder Information

Additional Policies About Transactions

The Funds cannot process transaction requests unless they are properly completed as described in this section. The Funds may cancel or change their transaction policies without notice. To avoid delays, please call us if you have any questions about these policies.

All purchases must be in U.S. Dollars. All checks must be in U.S. Dollars drawn on a domestic bank. The Funds will not accept payment in cash or money orders. To prevent check fraud, the Funds will not accept third party checks, Treasury checks, credit card checks, traveler's checks, starter checks, postdated checks, or any conditional order or payment.

The transfer agent will charge a $25 fee against a shareholder's account, in addition to any loss sustained by the Funds, for any payment that is returned.

The Funds may waive their minimum purchase requirement. Each of the Funds, the Distributor, the Advisor or the transfer agent reserves the right to reject any application for any reason in its sole discretion, including rejection of orders not accompanied by proper payment and orders that are not in the best interests of the Funds and their shareholders. The Funds do not accept applications under certain circumstances or in amounts considered disadvantageous to shareholders.

Telephone Purchase, Exchange and Redemption Privileges.

Shareholders who open accounts with the RBC Funds can accept telephone purchase, exchange and redemption privileges on the account application. If you call the Funds, the Funds' representative may request personal identification and may tape record the call. IRA account holders may redeem or exchange shares by telephone. If you have an IRA, you must indicate on your written redemption request whether or not to withhold federal income tax. Redemption requests failing to indicate an election to have tax withheld will be subject to 10% withholding. Shareholders redeeming from IRA accounts by telephone will be asked whether or not to withhold taxes from any distribution.

Class A Eligibility. Class A shares are offered by each Fund except the RBC Small Cap Value Fund and are available to investors who meet the minimum initial investment requirements.

Class I Eligibility. Each Fund (except the RBC Small Cap Value Fund) offers Class I shares to institutions or individuals with a $250,000 minimum requirement for initial investment. The RBC Small Cap Value Fund offers Class I shares to institutions or individuals with a $100,000 minimum requirement for initial investment. There is no minimum requirement for initial investment for participants of qualified retirement plans. The minimum requirement may be waived, at Fund management's discretion, for certain persons who are charged fees for advisory, investment, consulting or similar services by a financial intermediary or other service provider. The minimum requirement for initial investment for the Funds listed in this Prospectus does not apply to investments by employees of the Advisor or its affiliates, officers and trustees of the Funds, partners or employees of law firms that serve as counsel to the Funds or the Funds' independent trustees, or members of the immediate families of the foregoing (e.g., spouses, parents, children, grandparents, grandchildren, parents-in-law, sons and daughters-in-law, siblings, a sibling's spouse, and a spouse's siblings). There is no minimum requirement for subsequent investment for all shares of the Funds.

Class R6 Eligibility. Class R6 shares are offered by the RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund, the RBC Small Cap Core Fund and the RBC Small Cap Value Fund to Institutional Investors that meet a $250,000 minimum requirement for initial investment and to Eligible Investors. Institutional Investors (including endowments and foundations) are investors deemed appropriate by the Advisor that hold shares of a Fund through an account held directly with the Fund and that are not traded through an intermediary, subject to a minimum initial investment of $250,000. Eligible Investors are not subject to a minimum initial investment and include (a) retirement and benefit plans that have plan-level or omnibus accounts held on the books of a Fund and do not collect servicing or recordkeeping fees from the Fund; (b) plans or platforms sponsored by a financial intermediary whereby shares are held on the books of a Fund through omnibus accounts, either at the plan or platform level or the level of the plan administrator, and where an unaffiliated third party intermediary provides administrative, distribution and/or other support services to the plan or platform and does not charge the Fund servicing, recordkeeping or sub-transfer agent fees; and (c) collective investment trusts. Class R6 shares are not available directly to traditional or Roth IRAs, Coverdell Savings Accounts, Keoghs, SEPs, SARSEPs, Simple IRAs, individual 401(k) plans or individual 403(b) plans.

IRA and Keogh Account Maintenance Fees. A $15 annual maintenance fee is charged on all IRA and Keogh accounts. Multiple IRA or Keogh accounts associated with a single social security number are charged a maximum annual maintenance fee of $30. If an annual maintenance fee has not yet been charged when the last IRA or Keogh account associated with a particular social security number is completely liquidated, the full annual maintenance fee will be charged to the account at that time. Additionally, a $25 fee will be imposed on non-periodic withdrawals or terminations from IRAs and Keogh plans.

Corporations, Trusts and Other Entities. Additional documentation is normally required for corporations, fiduciaries and others who hold shares in a representative or nominee capacity. We cannot process your request until we have all documents in the form required. Please call us first to avoid delays.

Sales Limited to U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens. Shares of the RBC Funds may be offered to only United States citizens and United States resident aliens having a social security number or individual tax identification number. This Prospectus should not be considered a solicitation or offering of Fund shares to non-U.S. citizens or non-resident aliens.

Anti-Money Laundering Procedures. Shareholder information is subject to independent identity verification and may be shared, as permitted by law and as permitted by the Funds' Privacy Policy, for identifying and reporting suspected money laundering and terrorist activity. In compliance with the USA PATRIOT Act, all financial institutions (including mutual funds) are required, among other matters, to obtain, verify and record the following information for all registered owners and, in certain circumstances, for others who may be authorized to act on an account: full name, date of birth (for individuals), taxpayer identification number (usually your social security number), and permanent street address. In order to verify your identity, we may cross-reference your identification information with a consumer report or other electronic database, or by requesting a copy of your driver's license, passport or other identifying document. Corporate, trust and other entity accounts require additional documentation. If we are unable to verify your identity in accordance with the Funds' policies and procedures, we may reject and return your application, close your account, or take such other action as we deem reasonable and as permitted by law. Please review your account application for additional information.

Instructions for Opening an Account

If opening an account through your financial advisor or brokerage account, simply tell your advisor or broker that you wish to purchase shares of the Funds and he or she will take care of the necessary documentation.

You may purchase shares directly from a Fund by completing a new account application. Contact U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Fund's transfer agent at 1-800-422-2766 or go to www.rbcgam.us to obtain an application. Once completed, you may submit your application by following one of the steps below.

Instructions for Purchasing and Adding to Your Shares

If purchasing through your financial advisor or brokerage account, simply tell your advisor or broker that you wish to purchase shares of the Funds and he or she will take care of the necessary documentation. For all other purchases, follow the instructions below.

By Telephone	1-800-422-2766	If you elected telephone options on your account application, and your account has been open for at least 15 days, telephone orders will be accepted via electronic funds transfer from your bank account through the Automated Clearing House ("ACH") network. You must have banking information established on your account prior to making a purchase. If your order is received prior to the Funds' deadline, your shares will be purchased at the net asset value calculated on the day your order is placed.

By Exchange from Another RBC Fund	Please refer to the information under "Exchanging Your Shares" below.
Automatic Monthly Investment (Class A Shares only)	You may authorize automatic monthly investments in a constant dollar amount from your checking account. The Funds will draft your checking account on the same day each month in the amount you authorize via ACH.

Shareholder Information

You can also add to your account by using the convenient options described below. The Funds reserve the right to change or eliminate these privileges at any time without notice, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Automatic Monthly Investments

Automatic Monthly Investments (Class A Shares only) are processed through an ACH whereby an agreed amount is credited to or debited from a shareholder's pre-identified bank account. You may authorize automatic monthly investments in a constant dollar amount from your checking account. The Fund will draft your checking account on the same day each month in the amount you authorize via ACH.

Dividends and Distributions and Directed Dividend Option

Dividends and distributions will be automatically reinvested unless you request otherwise. There are no sales charges for reinvested distributions. Dividends will differ among classes of a Fund due to differences in distribution and other class-specific operating expenses. Capital gains, if any, are distributed at least annually. By selecting the appropriate box on the account application, you can elect to receive your distributions (capital gains and dividends) in cash (check), have distributions deposited in a pre-authorized bank account via ACH, have distributions reinvested in the Funds, or into another eligible RBC Fund (as set forth under the caption "Exchanging Your Shares") without a sales charge. You should maintain the minimum balance in each Fund into which you plan to reinvest distributions. You can change or terminate your participation in the reinvestment option at any time in writing or by telephone at least five days prior to the record date of the distribution.

If you elect to receive distributions and/or capital gains paid in cash, and the U.S. Postal Service cannot deliver the check, or if a check remains outstanding for six months, the Fund reserves the right to reinvest the distribution check in your account, at the Fund's current net asset value, and to reinvest all subsequent distributions.

DISTRIBUTIONS ARE MADE ON A PER SHARE BASIS REGARDLESS OF HOW LONG YOU HAVE OWNED YOUR SHARES. THEREFORE, IF YOU INVEST SHORTLY BEFORE THE DISTRIBUTION DATE, SOME OF YOUR INVESTMENT WILL BE RETURNED TO YOU IN THE FORM OF A DISTRIBUTION THAT MAY BE TAXABLE. (See "Shareholder Information — Dividends, Distributions and Taxes").

Selling Your Shares

You may withdraw from your account at any time. Certain redemptions will however require a signature guarantee. Signature guarantees will generally be accepted from domestic banks, brokers, dealers, credit unions, national securities exchanges, registered securities associations, clearing agencies and savings associations, as well as from participants in the New York Stock Exchange Medallion Signature Program and the Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program (“STAMP”). A notary public is not an acceptable signature guarantor.

A signature guarantee from either a Medallion program member or non-Medallion program member is required to redeem shares in the following situations:

- If you are requesting a change in ownership on your account;
- When redemption proceeds are payable or sent to any person, address or bank account not on record;
- If a change of address was received by the transfer agent within the last 30 calendar days;
- For all redemptions in excess of $50,000 from any shareholder account.

The Fund may waive any of the above requirements in certain instances. In addition to the situations described above, the Funds and/or the transfer agent reserve the right to require a signature guarantee or other acceptable signature authentication in other instances based on the circumstances relative to the particular situation. Non-financial transactions, including establishing or modifying certain services on an account, will require a signature guarantee, signature verification from a Signature Validation Program member, or other acceptable form of authentication from a financial institution source.

Please refer to “Additional Policies on Selling Shares (Redemptions)” below.

Shares redeemed within 30 days of purchase generally will be subject to a redemption fee of 2% of the value of the shares so redeemed.

Class R6 shares are not subject to the 2% redemption fee. (See “Market Timing and Excessive Trading — Redemption Fee,” below.) The Funds reserve the right to amend their redemption policies. Shareholders will be notified of changes.

Withdrawing Money From Your Fund Investment

As a mutual fund shareholder, you are technically selling shares when you request a withdrawal in cash. This is also known as redeeming shares or a redemption of shares.

Shareholder Information

Instructions for Selling Shares (Redemptions)

If selling your shares through your financial advisor or broker, ask him or her for redemption procedures. Your advisor and/or broker may have transaction minimums and/or transaction times that will affect your redemption. For all other sales transactions, follow the instructions below.

By Telephone	1-800-422-2766	You may withdraw any amount up to $50,000 by telephone, provided that your account is authorized for telephone redemptions. The Funds will send proceeds only to the address or bank of record. You must provide the Fund's name, your account number, the name(s) of each account owner (exactly as registered), and the number of shares or dollar amount to be redeemed prior to 4:00 p.m. Eastern time for the trade to be processed with that day's closing price.
By Mail	Regular Mail RBC Funds c/o U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC P.O. Box 701 Milwaukee, WI 53201-0701	Registered/Overnight Mail RBC Funds c/o U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC 615 East Michigan Street, 3rd Floor Milwaukee, WI 53202-5207
	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. In a letter, include the genuine signature of each registered owner (exactly as registered), the name of each account owner, the account number and the number of shares or dollar amount to be redeemed.2. Mail or courier the letter to the applicable address above.3. The Funds do not consider the U.S. Postal Service or other independent delivery services to be their agents. Therefore, deposit in the mail or with such services, or receipt at U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC's post office box, of purchase orders or redemption requests does not constitute receipt by the transfer agent of the Funds.
By Wire	Redemption proceeds may be wired to your pre-identified bank account. A $15 fee is deducted from your redemption proceeds for complete share redemptions. In the case of a partial redemption, the fee of $15 will be deducted from the remaining account balance. If your written request is received in good order before 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, the Funds will normally wire the money on the following business day. If the Funds receive your request after 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, the Funds will normally wire the money on the second business day. Contact your financial institution about the time of receipt and availability.
Systematic Redemption Plan (Class A shares only)	You may specify a dollar amount to be withdrawn monthly or quarterly or have your shares redeemed at a rate calculated to exhaust the account at the end of a specified period. You must own shares in an open account valued at $10,000 or more when you first authorize the systematic redemption plan. You may cancel or change your plan or redeem all your shares at any time. The Funds will continue withdrawals until your shares are gone or until you or the Fund cancel the plan. Depending upon how long you have held your shares, redemption fees and contingent deferred sales charges may apply.

Shareholder Information

Additional Policies on Selling Shares (Redemptions)

For accounts held directly with the Funds, the length of time that the Funds typically expect to pay redemption proceeds depends on whether payment is made by ACH, wire or check. The Funds typically expect to make payments of redemption proceeds by wire or ACH within two business days following receipt of the redemption order by the Funds. For payment by check, the Funds typically expect to mail the check within two business days following receipt of the redemption order by the Funds.

For accounts held through a financial intermediary, the length of time that the Funds typically expect to pay redemption proceeds depends on the method of payment and the agreement between the financial intermediary and the Funds. For redemption proceeds that are paid directly to you by the Fund, the Fund typically expects to make payments by wire or ACH or by mailing a check within two business days following receipt of a redemption order from the financial intermediary by the Funds. For payments that are made to your financial intermediary for transmittal to you, the Funds expect to pay redemption proceeds to the financial intermediary within one to two business days following receipt of the redemption order from the financial intermediary by the Funds. The settlement of redemption proceeds is determined by the Depository Trust and Clearing Corporation (“DTCC”) based on the order transmitted through Fund/SERV.

Each Fund intends to pay redemption proceeds promptly and in any event within seven days after the request for redemption is received in good order. In case of emergencies or other unusual circumstances, each Fund may suspend redemptions or postpone payment for more than seven days, as permitted by law. Redemptions of Fund shares may be suspended when trading on the NYSE is closed or is restricted, in the event of an early or unscheduled close of the primary trading markets for the Fund’s portfolio instruments, or during an emergency which makes it impracticable for the applicable Fund to dispose of its securities or to determine the value of its net assets, or during any other period as permitted by the SEC for the protection of investors. Under these and other unusual circumstances, a Fund may delay redemption payments for more than seven days, as permitted by law.

The Funds cannot accept requests that contain special conditions or effective dates. The Funds may request additional documentation to ensure that a request is genuine. Examples may include a certified copy of a death certificate or divorce decree.

If you request a redemption within 15 calendar days of purchase, the Funds will delay sending your proceeds until it has collected unconditional payment, which may take up to 15 calendar days from the date of purchase. You can avoid this delay by purchasing shares with a federal funds wire. For your protection, if your account address has been changed within the last 30 calendar days, your redemption request must be in writing and signed by each account owner, with signature guarantees. The right to redeem shares may be temporarily suspended in emergency situations only as permitted under federal law.

Shareholder Information

Redemption Fee. A 2% redemption fee is generally imposed on redemptions and exchanges within 30 calendar days of purchase. Class R6 shares are not subject to the 2% redemption fee. See “Market Timing and Excessive Trading — Redemption Fee,” below.

Redemption in Kind. Each Fund typically expects to satisfy redemption requests by selling portfolio assets or by using holdings of cash or cash equivalents. In addition to paying redemption proceeds in cash, each Fund reserves the right to make payment in securities rather than cash, known as “redemption in kind,” for amounts redeemed by a shareholder, in any 90-day period, in excess of $250,000 or 1% of Fund net assets, whichever is less. If the Fund deems it advisable for the benefit of all shareholders, redemption in kind will consist of securities equal in market value to your shares. When you convert these securities to cash, you will pay brokerage charges. While the Funds do not routinely use redemptions in-kind, the Funds reserve the right to use redemptions in-kind to manage the impact of large redemptions on the Funds. Redemption in-kind proceeds will typically be made by delivering a pro-rata amount of a Fund’s holdings that are readily marketable securities to the redeeming shareholder within seven days after receipt of the redemption order by the Fund.

Minimum Account Size for Class I and Class A Shares. You must maintain a minimum account value equal to the current minimum regular initial investment, which is $1,000 for Class A shareholder accounts, $250,000 for Class I shareholder accounts in the RBC SMID Cap Growth Fund, RBC Enterprise Fund, RBC Small Cap Core Fund and RBC Microcap Value Fund and $100,000 for Class I shareholder accounts in the RBC Small Cap Value Fund. There is no minimum account size requirement for retirement plans. If your account falls below a minimum due to redemptions and not market action, the Funds may ask you to increase the account size back to the minimum. If you do not bring the account up to the minimum amount within 60 days after the Funds contact you, the Funds may close the account and send your money to you or begin charging you a fee for remaining below the minimum account size.

No CDSC or redemption fees will be imposed on shares redeemed as a result of involuntary account closing.

Minimum Account Size for Class R6 Shares. Institutional Investors in Class R6 shares must maintain a minimum account value equal to the current minimum regular initial investment, which is $250,000 for Class R6 shareholder accounts. There is no minimum account size requirement for Eligible Investors. If your account falls below a minimum due to redemptions and not market action, the Funds may ask you to increase the account size back to the minimum. If you do not bring the account up to the minimum amount within 60 days after the Funds contact you, the Funds may close the account and send your money to you or begin charging you a fee for remaining below the minimum account size. No redemption fees will be imposed on shares redeemed as a result of involuntary account closing.

Exchanging Your Shares

If exchanging shares through your financial advisor or brokerage account, simply tell your advisor or broker that you wish to exchange shares of the Funds and he or she will take care of the necessary documentation. To open a new account through an exchange from an existing RBC Fund account, please refer to "Instructions for Opening an Account" above.

An exchange of shares is technically a sale of shares in one fund followed by a purchase of shares in another fund, and therefore may have tax consequences. By following the instructions below, and subject to such limitations as may be imposed by the RBC Funds, you may exchange shares between all RBC Funds except the U.S. Government Money Market Fund (RBC Institutional Class 2 and RBC Investor Class).

By Telephone	1-800-422-2766	You may make exchanges from one identically registered RBC Fund account into another eligible RBC Fund account, provided that your account is authorized for telephone exchanges.
By Mail	Regular Mail RBC Funds c/o U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC P.O. Box 701 Milwaukee, WI 53201-0701	Registered/Overnight Mail RBC Funds c/o U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC 615 East Michigan Street, 3rd Floor Milwaukee, WI 53202-5207

In a letter, include the genuine signature of each registered owner, the account number, the number of shares or dollar amount to be exchanged, the name of the RBC Fund from which the amount is being sold, and the name of the RBC Fund into which the amount is being purchased.2. Mail or courier the letter to the applicable address above.3. The Funds do not consider the U.S. Postal Service or other independent delivery services to be their agents. Therefore, deposit in the mail or with such services, or receipt at U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC's post office box, of purchase orders or redemption requests does not constitute receipt by the transfer agent of the Funds.
Monthly Exchanges	You may authorize monthly exchanges from one eligible RBC Fund into another eligible RBC Fund. Exchanges will be continued until all shares have been exchanged or until you terminate the service.

Shareholder Information

Additional Policies on Exchanges

Shares exchanged within 30 days of purchase generally will be subject to a redemption fee of 2% of the value of the shares so exchanged. Class R6 shares are not subject to the 2% redemption fee. The Funds also reserve the right to limit exchanges. (See “Market Timing and Excessive Trading,” below.)

With the exception of exchanges to or from the U.S. Government Money Market Fund (whose shares are offered through another prospectus) and Class I shares exchanges into Class R6 shares (as noted below), the share class must be the same in the two funds involved in the exchange. No front-end sales charge will be assessed. For complete information on the RBC Fund you are exchanging into, including fees and expenses, read that fund's prospectus carefully. Call us for a free copy or contact your investment representative. With the exception of exchanges to the U.S. Government Money Market Fund, you must meet the minimum investment and eligibility requirements of the Fund you are exchanging into. Exchanges to the U.S. Government Money Market Fund will be into the RBC Institutional Class 1 shares. The names and registrations on the two accounts must be identical. To the extent that an RBC Fund offers Class R6 shares, Class I shares of that Fund may be exchanged for Class R6 shares of that Fund at any time, provided that all eligibility requirements for investment in Class R6 shares are met. You should review the prospectus of the fund you are exchanging into. Call us for a free copy or contact your investment representative. The exchange privilege (including automatic exchanges) may be changed or eliminated at any time upon 60 days' notice to shareholders.

Additional Shareholder Services

Services for the following types of accounts are also available to shareholders. Please call 1-800-422-2766 for more information.

Telephone Services. Telephone trades must be received by or prior to market close. During periods of increased market activity, you may have difficulty reaching the Funds by telephone or may encounter higher than usual call waits. If this happens, contact the Funds by mail or allow sufficient time to place your telephone transaction. The Funds may refuse a telephone request, including a request to redeem shares of a Fund. The Funds will use reasonable procedures to confirm that telephone instructions are genuine. If such procedures are followed, neither the Funds nor any persons or entity that provides services to the RBC Funds will be liable for any losses due to unauthorized or fraudulent instructions. If an account has more than one owner or authorized person, the Fund will accept telephone instructions from any one owner or authorized person. The Funds reserve the right to limit the frequency or the amount of telephone redemption requests. Once a telephone transaction has been placed, it cannot be cancelled or modified.

Shareholder Mailings. To help lower operating costs, the Funds attempt to eliminate mailing duplicate documents to the same address. When two or more RBC Fund shareholders have the same last name and address, the Funds may send only one prospectus, annual report, semi-annual report, general information statement or proxy statement to that address rather than mailing separate documents to each shareholder. This practice is known as “householding.” Shareholders may opt out of this single mailing at any time by calling the RBC Funds at 1-800-422-2766 and requesting the additional copies of Fund documents.

Market Timing and Excessive Trading

Market timing may interfere with the management of a Fund’s portfolio and result in increased costs. The RBC Funds do not accommodate market timers. On behalf of the RBC Funds, the Board of Trustees has adopted policies and procedures to discourage short-term trading or to compensate the Funds for costs associated with it.

Redemption Fee. A 2.00% fee is imposed on redemptions or exchanges of shares of the Funds in this Prospectus within 30 days of purchase. Class R6 shares are not subject to a redemption fee. The redemption fee will not be imposed in certain situations, such as: (1) shares purchased through reinvested distributions (dividends and capital gains), (2) shares purchased through 401(k) and other employer-sponsored retirement plans (excluding IRA and other one person retirement plans), (3) shares redeemed in accordance with the systematic redemption plan or monthly exchange program, (4) redemptions following the death or disability of a shareholder (of which the Fund has been notified), or (5) under other circumstances at Fund management’s discretion. The redemption fee may also not be imposed, at Fund management’s discretion, on redemptions or exchanges of shares that occur as part of the periodic rebalancing of accounts in an investment advisor’s asset allocation program and not at the direction of the investment advisor’s client. Each Fund will retain any redemption fees to help cover transaction and tax costs that result from selling securities to meet short-term investor redemption requests. For purposes of calculating the holding period, the Funds will employ the “first in, first out” method, which assumes that the shares sold or exchanged are the ones held the longest. The redemption fee will be deducted from the proceeds that result from the order to sell or exchange.

Restriction and Rejection of Purchase or Exchange Orders. The RBC Funds reserve the right to restrict or reject, for any reason, without any prior notice, any purchase or exchange order. These include transactions representing excessive trading or suspected excessive trading, transactions that may be disruptive to the management of a Fund's portfolio, and purchase orders not accompanied by proper payment. The RBC Funds reserve the right to delay for up to one business day the processing of exchange requests in the event that, in a Fund's judgment, such delay would be in the Fund's best interest, in which case both the redemption and purchase will be processed at the conclusion of the delay period. Redemptions may be suspended or postponed at times when the NYSE is closed, when trading is restricted, or under certain emergency circumstances as determined by the SEC.

If detected, once an accountholder makes five exchanges between RBC Funds during a calendar year, the ability to make additional exchanges for that account may be suspended. In applying these exchange limits, the Funds may consider trading done in multiple accounts under common ownership, control or influence. These exchange limits do not apply to purchases made through the monthly exchange program. In addition, these limits may be modified at the Fund's discretion for retirement plans to conform to plan exchange features and applicable law and regulation, and for automated or pre-established exchange, asset allocation or dollar cost averaging programs.

The RBC Funds' policy imposing redemption fees and limiting the number of exchanges applies uniformly to all investors. However, some financial intermediaries, such as investment advisors, broker-dealers, transfer agents and third-party administrators, maintain omnibus accounts in which they aggregate orders of multiple investors and forward aggregated orders to the RBC Funds. Because the Funds receive these orders on an aggregated basis and because these omnibus accounts may not be identified by the financial intermediaries as omnibus accounts, the RBC Funds may be limited in their ability to detect excessive trading or enforce their market timing policy with respect to those omnibus accounts and investors purchasing and redeeming Fund shares through those accounts.

If the RBC Funds identify an investor as a potential market timer or an intermediary as a potential facilitator for market timing in the Funds, even if the above limits have not been reached, the RBC Funds may take steps to restrict or prohibit further trading in the Funds by that investor or through that intermediary. As stated above, the Funds reserve the right to restrict or reject a purchase order for any reason without prior notice. The Funds also reserve the right to terminate an investor's exchange privilege without prior notice.

Risks Presented by Excessive Trading Practices. Parties engaged in market timing may use many techniques to seek to avoid detection. Despite the efforts of the Funds and their agents to prevent market timing, there is no guarantee that the Funds will be able to prevent all such practices. For example, the Funds receive purchase, exchange and redemption orders through financial intermediaries and cannot always reasonably detect market timing that may be facilitated by these intermediaries or by the use of omnibus account arrangements offered by these intermediaries to investors. Omnibus account arrangements typically aggregate the share ownership positions of multiple shareholders and often result in the Funds being unable to monitor the purchase, exchange and redemption activity of a particular shareholder. To the extent that the Funds and their agents are unable to curtail excessive trading practices in a Fund, those practices may interfere with the efficient management of the Fund's investment portfolio, and may, for example, cause the Fund to maintain a higher cash balance than it otherwise would have maintained or to experience higher portfolio turnover than it otherwise would have experienced. This could hinder performance and lead to increased brokerage and administration costs. Those increased costs would be borne by Fund shareholders.

For a Fund that invests significantly in foreign securities traded on markets that may close prior to when the Fund determines its NAV, excessive trading by certain shareholders may cause dilution in the value of Fund shares held by other shareholders. The RBC Funds have procedures designed to adjust closing market prices of foreign securities under certain circumstances to reflect what it determines to be the fair value of those securities at the time when the Fund determines its NAV, which are intended to mitigate this risk.

To the extent that a Fund invests in securities that may trade infrequently, such as securities of smaller companies, it may be susceptible to market timing by investors who seek to exploit perceived price inefficiencies in the Fund's investments. This is commonly referred to as price arbitrage. In addition, the market for securities of smaller companies may at times show market momentum, in which positive or negative performance may continue for a period of time for reasons unrelated to the fundamentals of the issuer.

Certain investors may seek to capture this momentum by trading frequently in the Fund's shares. Because securities of smaller companies may be less liquid than securities of larger companies, the Fund may be unable to purchase or sell investments at favorable prices in response to cash inflows or outflows caused by timing activity.

Disclosure of Portfolio Holdings

A description of the Funds' policies and procedures regarding the disclosure of portfolio holdings is available in the Funds' SAI. The Funds also make certain portfolio securities information available on their website which is accessed by using the Funds' link at www.rbcgam.us. Within 15 calendar days of month-end, each Fund's top ten holdings and related weightings, the total number of Fund holdings and a Fund's sector/industry weightings (all as of month-end) are posted until replaced by the next month's information. Within 10 business days of fiscal quarter-end, each Fund's portfolio holdings and their weightings are posted until replaced by the next quarter's information.

Distribution Arrangements/Sales Charges

This section describes the sales charges and fees you will pay as an investor in the share classes offered by the Funds and ways to qualify for reduced sales charges. Class I shares and Class R6 shares of the Funds have no sales charges or distribution/service fees and, generally, have lower annual expenses than Class A shares.

	Class A	Class I	Class R6
Sales Charge (Load)	Maximum sales charge of 5.75%. See Schedule below. CDSC of 1.00% on purchases of $1 million or more for redemptions within 12 months of purchase.	No sales charge	No sales charge.
Distribution and Service (12b-1) Fee	0.25%*	None	None
Fund Expenses	Higher annual expenses than Class I shares	Lower annual expenses than Class A shares.	Generally lower annual expenses than Class A and Class I shares.

* Under the 12b-1 Plan, Class A is authorized to pay expenses directly or reimburse the Distributor for costs and expenses incurred in connection with distribution and marketing of Fund shares subject to an annual limit of up to 0.50% of the average daily net assets attributable to Class A shares of a Fund. Currently, the Board of Trustees has approved an annual limit of 0.25% for Class A shares.

 There are no Class A sales charges imposed on purchases by shareholders who maintain accounts in which Class R shares or Class C shares were converted to Class A shares.

The class of shares that is better for you depends on a number of factors, including the amount you plan to invest and how long you plan to hold the shares. Your financial advisor can help you decide which class of shares is more appropriate for you.

Front-End Sales Charges. Front-end sales charges are imposed on sales of Class A shares of the Funds in this Prospectus at the rates listed¹ in the table below. The sales charge decreases with larger purchases. For example, if you invest more than $100,000, or if your cumulative purchases or the value on your account is more than $100,000, then the sales charge is reduced. (See “Reducing the Initial Sales Charge on Purchases of Class A Shares,” below.) This sales charge will be waived for purchases (i) in accounts invested through wrap programs in which the RBC Funds participate, (ii) in accounts that transferred to an RBC Fund from a series of RBC Funds, Inc. upon the April 16, 2004 reorganization, (iii) in accounts in which Class R shares or Class C shares were converted to Class A shares, (iv) through “one-stop” mutual fund networks, (v) through trust companies and banks acting in a fiduciary, advisor, agency, custodial or similar capacity, or (vi) through group retirement plans. The amount paid for an investment, known as the “offering price,” includes any applicable front-end sales charges. There is no sales charge on reinvested dividends and distributions. Also shown in the table is the portion of the front-end sales charge that is paid to dealers expressed as a percentage of the offering price of a Fund’s shares.

* A 1.00% CDSC is imposed on redemptions within 12 months of purchase. See “Contingent Deferred Sales Charge,” below.

Reducing the Initial Sales Charge on Purchases of Class A Shares

Combining Accounts of Family Members. You may combine accounts in RBC Funds Class A shares of the Funds listed in this Prospectus and all other RBC Funds Class A shares offered in separate prospectuses in order to qualify for a reduced sales charge (load). The following types of accounts may be aggregated for purposes of reducing the initial sales charge.

- Accounts owned by you and your immediate family (your spouse and your children under 21 years of age)
- Single-participant retirement plan accounts owned by you or your immediate family
- Trust accounts established by you or your immediate family

You need to provide your financial advisor with the information as to which of your accounts qualify as family accounts and this information should be included with your account application.

Letter of Intent. By signing a Letter of Intent (LOI) you can reduce your Class A sales charge. Your individual purchases will be made at the applicable sales charge based on the amount you intend to invest over a 13-month period. The LOI will apply to all purchases of RBC Funds Class A shares of the Funds in this Prospectus and all other RBC Funds Class A shares offered in separate prospectuses. Any shares purchased within 90 days of the date you sign the letter of intent may be used as credit toward completion, but the reduced sales charge will only apply to new purchases made on or after that date. Purchases resulting from the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains do not apply toward fulfillment of the LOI. Shares equal to 5.75% of the amount of the LOI will be held in escrow during the 13-month period. If, at the end of that time the total amount of purchases made is less than the amount intended, you will be required to pay the difference between the reduced sales charge and the sales charge applicable to the individual purchases had the LOI not been in effect. This amount will be obtained from redemption of the escrow shares. Any remaining escrow shares will be released to you.

Shareholder Information

If you establish an LOI with RBC Funds you can aggregate your accounts as well as the accounts of your immediate family members. You will need to provide written instruction with respect to the other accounts whose purchases should be considered in fulfillment of the LOI.

Rights of Accumulation. For the purpose of qualifying for the lower sales charge rates that apply to larger purchases, you may combine your new purchase of Class A shares with shares of currently owned holdings in Class A shares of all other RBC Funds Class A shares offered in this and separate prospectuses. The applicable sales charge for the new purchase is based on the total of your current purchase and the current value based on NAV of all other Class A shares you own. You may need to provide your financial advisor with account statements or other information to demonstrate that you qualify for a sales charge reduction.

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT TO RECEIVE A REDUCTION IN THE INITIAL SALES CHARGE OF YOUR PURCHASES OF CLASS A SHARES OF THE RBC FUNDS, YOU MUST NOTIFY YOUR FINANCIAL ADVISOR AT THE TIME YOU PURCHASE YOUR SHARES THAT YOU QUALIFY FOR SUCH A REDUCTION. IF YOU DO NOT NOTIFY YOUR FINANCIAL ADVISOR THAT YOU MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR A SALES CHARGE REDUCTION, YOU MAY NOT RECEIVE A REDUCTION TO WHICH YOU ARE OTHERWISE ENTITLED.

Contingent Deferred Sales Charges. A 1.00% CDSC is imposed on redemptions of Class A shares made within 12 months of a purchase of $1 million or more of Class A shares on which no front-end sales charge was paid. Shares acquired through reinvestment of dividends or capital gain distributions are not subject to a CDSC. For purposes of determining the CDSC, if you sell only some of your shares, shares that are not subject to any CDSC will be sold first, followed by shares that you have owned the longest. The CDSC is based on the initial offering price or the current sales price of the shares, whichever is less.

Waiving Contingent Deferred Sales Charges (Class A Shares). The contingent deferred sales charge on Class A shares may be waived in the following cases:

- Redemptions due to death or disability of the shareholder
- Redemptions due to the complete termination of a trust upon the death of the trustor/grantor or beneficiary
- Tax-free returns of excess contributions to IRAs
- Permitted exchanges of shares between funds (However, if shares acquired in the exchange are subsequently redeemed within the period during which a contingent deferred sales charge would have applied to the initial shares purchased, the contingent deferred sales charge will not be waived)

Shareholder Information

The contingent deferred sales charge on Class A shares may also be waived in the following two cases, if together such transactions do not exceed 12% of the value of an account annually:

- Redemptions through a systematic withdrawal plan
- Redemptions due to receiving required minimum distributions from retirement accounts upon reaching age 70½

The Funds do not provide additional information on sales charges on their website because the information is contained in the Prospectus, which is available on the Funds' website at www.rbcgam.us.

Distribution and Service (12b-1) Fees

Each Fund with Class A shares has adopted a plan under Rule 12b-1. 12b-1 fees paid pursuant to the plan compensate the Distributor and other dealers and investment representatives for services and expenses relating to the sale and distribution of the Fund's shares and/or for providing shareholder services. Because 12b-1 fees are paid from Fund assets on an on-going basis, over time these fees will increase the cost of your investment and may cost you more than paying other types of sales charges.

Class A shares may pay a 12b-1 fee of up to 0.50% of the average daily net assets of a Fund. Up to 0.25% of this fee may be used for shareholder servicing. Under the 12b-1 Plan, Class A is authorized to pay directly or reimburse the Distributor in connection with distribution and marketing Fund shares subject to an annual limit of up to 0.50% of the average daily net assets attributable to Class A shares of a Fund. Currently, the Board of Trustees has approved an annual limit of 0.25% for 12b-1 fees for Class A shares.

Shareholder Servicing Plan

The Trust has adopted a Shareholder Servicing Plan (the "Servicing Plan") that allows Class A and Class I shares of the Funds to pay service fees to firms that provide shareholder services ("Intermediaries"). Under the Servicing Plan, if an Intermediary provides shareholder services, including responding to shareholder inquiries and assisting shareholders with their accounts, the Fund may pay shareholder servicing fees to the Intermediary at an annual rate not to exceed 0.15% of the average daily value of net assets. Because these fees are paid out of the Fund's assets on an ongoing basis, over time these fees will increase the cost of your investment and may cost you more than other types of charges.

Dividends, Distributions and Taxes

Dividends and Distributions. Each Fund intends to qualify each year as a regulated investment company under the Internal Revenue Code. As a regulated investment company, a Fund generally pays no federal income tax on the income and gains it distributes to you. Each Fund expects to declare and distribute all of its net investment income, if any, to shareholders as dividends annually. Each Fund will distribute net realized capital gains, if any, at least annually. A Fund may distribute such income dividends and capital gains more frequently, if necessary, in order to reduce or eliminate federal excise or income taxes on the Fund. The amount of any distribution will vary, and there is no guarantee a Fund will pay either an income dividend or a capital gains distribution.

Annual Statements. Each year, the Funds will send you an annual statement (Form 1099) of your account activity to assist you in completing your federal, state and local tax returns. Your statement will show the exempt-interest dividends you received and the separately-identified portion that constitutes an item of tax preference for purposes of the alternative minimum tax. Distributions declared in October, November, or December to shareholders of record in such month, but paid in January, are taxable as if they were paid in December. Prior to issuing your statement, the Funds make every effort to reduce the number of corrected forms mailed to you. However, if a Fund finds it necessary to reclassify its distributions or adjust the cost basis of any covered shares (defined below) sold or exchanged after you receive your tax statement, the Fund will send you a corrected Form 1099.

Avoid “Buying a Dividend.” At the time you purchase your Fund shares, a Fund’s net asset value may reflect undistributed income, undistributed capital gains, or net unrealized appreciation in value of portfolio securities held by the Fund. For taxable investors, a subsequent distribution to you of such amounts, although constituting a return of your investment, would be taxable. Buying shares in a Fund just before it declares an income dividend or capital gains distribution is sometimes known as “buying a dividend.”

Tax Considerations. Each Fund expects, based on its investment objective and strategies, that its distributions, if any, will be taxable as ordinary income, capital gains, or some combination of both. This is true whether you reinvest your distributions in additional Fund shares or receive them in cash. For federal income tax purposes, Fund distributions of short-term capital gains are taxable to you as ordinary income. Fund distributions of long-term capital gains are taxable to you as long-term capital gains no matter how long you have owned your shares. A portion of income dividends reported by a Fund may be qualified dividend income eligible for taxation by individual shareholders at long-term capital gain rates provided certain holding period requirements are met.

Sale or Redemption of Fund Shares. You will recognize taxable gain or loss on a sale, exchange or redemption of your shares in a Fund, including an exchange for shares of another RBC Fund, based on the difference between your tax basis in the shares and the amount you receive for them. Generally, you will recognize long-term capital gain or loss if you have held your Fund shares for over one year at the time you sell or exchange them. Any loss incurred on a redemption or exchange of shares held for six months or less will be treated as long-term capital loss to the extent of any long-term capital gain distributed to you by the Fund on those shares. A Fund is required to report to you and the Internal Revenue Service annually on Form 1099-B not only the gross proceeds of Fund shares you sell or redeem but also their cost basis for shares purchased or acquired on or after January 1, 2012 (“covered shares”). Cost basis will be calculated using the Funds’ default method of average cost, unless you instruct a Fund to use a different calculation method.

Shareholder Information

Shareholders should carefully review the cost basis information provided by a Fund and make any additional basis, holding period or other adjustments that are required when reporting these amounts on their federal income tax returns. If your account is held by your investment representative (financial advisor or other broker), please contact that representative with respect to reporting of cost basis and available elections for your account. Tax-advantaged retirement accounts will not be affected.

Medicare Tax. An additional 3.8% Medicare tax is imposed on certain net investment income (including ordinary dividends and capital gain distributions received from a Fund and net gains from redemptions or other taxable dispositions of Fund shares) of U.S. individuals, estates and trusts to the extent that such person's "modified adjusted gross income" (in the case of an individual) or "adjusted gross income" (in the case of an estate or trust) exceeds certain threshold amounts. This Medicare tax, if applicable, is reported by you on, and paid with, your federal income tax return.

Backup Withholding. By law, if you do not provide a Fund with your proper taxpayer identification number and certain required certifications, you may be subject to backup withholding at the applicable rate on any distributions of income, capital gains, or proceeds from the sale of your shares. A Fund also must withhold if the Internal Revenue Service instructs it to do so.

State and Local Taxes. Fund distributions and gains from the sale or exchange of your Fund shares also may be subject to state, local and foreign taxes.

Non-U.S. Shareholders. Shareholders other than U.S. persons may be subject to a different U.S. federal income tax treatment, including withholding tax at the rate of 30% on amounts treated as ordinary dividends from the Fund, as discussed in more detail in the SAI.

This discussion of "Dividends, Distributions and Taxes" is not intended or written to be used as tax advice. Because everyone's tax situation is unique, you should consult your tax professional about federal, state, local, or foreign tax consequences before making an investment in a Fund.

Organizational Structure

RBC Funds Trust, formerly known as Tamarack Funds Trust, was organized as a Delaware statutory trust on December 16, 2003. Overall responsibility for the management of the Funds is vested in the Board of Trustees. The predecessor funds to the Funds, except the RBC Small Cap Value Fund, were reorganized as series of RBC Funds Trust effective April 16, 2004.

Financial Highlights

The following tables are intended to help you understand each Fund's financial performance for the past five years of the Fund's operations, or since a Fund's inception if less than five years. Certain information reflects financial results for a single Fund share. The total returns in the table represent the rate that an investor would have earned or lost on an investment in a Fund assuming reinvestment of all dividends and distributions. This information has been audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, whose Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm, along with each Fund's financial statements, is included in the Funds' Annual Report, which is available free of charge at www.rbcgam.us or by calling 1-800-422-2766. The financial highlights of the Funds for the periods ended September 30, 2015 and prior were audited by another independent registered public accounting firm.

RBC Funds

Notice of Privacy Policy & Practices

The RBC Funds recognize and respect the privacy concerns and expectations of our customers, including individuals who provide their nonpublic personal information to the RBC Funds but do not invest in the RBC Funds' shares.

We provide this notice to you so that you will know what kinds of information we collect about our customers and the circumstances in which that information may be disclosed to our affiliates and to third parties who are not affiliated with the RBC Funds. Our affiliates are companies that are related by common ownership or control.

Collection of Customer Information We collect nonpublic personal information about our customers from the following sources:

- Account Applications and Other Forms, which may include a customer's name, address, social security number, and information about a customer's investment goals and risk tolerance;
- Account History, including information about the transactions and balances in a customer's accounts; and
- Correspondence, written, telephonic or electronic between a customer and the RBC Funds or service providers to the RBC Funds.

Disclosure of Customer Information We may disclose all of the information described above to our affiliates and to certain third parties who are not affiliated with the RBC Funds under one or more of these circumstances:

- As Authorized — if you request or authorize the disclosure of the information.
- As Permitted by Law — for example, sharing information with companies who maintain or service customer accounts for the RBC Funds is permitted and is essential for us to provide shareholders with necessary or useful services with respect to their accounts.
- Under Joint Agreements — we may also share information with companies that perform marketing services on our behalf or to other financial institutions with whom we have joint marketing agreements.

Security, Safeguarding and Destruction of Customer Information and Reports We require service providers to the RBC Funds:

- To maintain policies and procedures designed to assure only appropriate access to, and use of information about customers of, the RBC Funds;
- To maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to guard nonpublic personal information of customers of the RBC Funds;
- To maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards for the proper disposal of consumer report information, as defined in Rule 30(b)(1)(ii) of Regulation S-P.

Delegation The RBC Funds have delegated the responsibility to implement appropriate written procedures for such safeguarding and disposal of consumer report information and records to the Funds' transfer agent and/or any other service provider who may come into possession of such information.

We will adhere to the policies and practices described in this notice regardless of whether you are a current or former shareholder of the RBC Funds.

For more information about the Funds, the following documents are available free upon request:
